FOR COUNTY CLERK.
We are authorized to announce P. T. COOLEY a candidate for the office of County Clerk of Adair County subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The Senate adjourned sine die last Saturday.

Another alleged victim of hanging has come to light at Boston.

Ex-President Harrison is a very sick man, and much uneasiness is felt concerning him.

It is reported that J. Pierpont Morgan is the father of a plan to unite German and American trusts.

Hon. Thomas B. Reed, who has been a leader of the Republican party for many years, is now out of politics.

We have often heard it said that there's many tricks in politics. There are others who have heard it.

Bourbon county Democrats in news meeting declares for Judge James E. Cantrell to succeed Senator Deboe.

The Appropriation of the 56th Congress was $1,440,002,545. It is a record breaker but it was the people money appropriated.

Something happened in the court-house last Monday. It concerned, carried its points, made no concessions to the minority and then adjourned.

A cyclone struck Willis Point, Texas, last Saturday, killing four persons and destroying property valued at $50,000. Quite a number of persons sustained injuries.

Only $4,000,000 was spent at the inauguration of McKinley, but it was carried out just the same as if there was plenty of cash on hand.

Representative Boring has sent out his speech on the River and Harbor bill. Mr. Boring has made an earnest effort to secure an appropriation for the upper Cumberland River, as his speech clearly indicates.

On his retirement from the United States Senate the President makes Mr. Linea a Commissioner to the St. Louis Exposition at a salary of $5,000. The ex-Senator is fast coming around. Another jerk and he will be one of them.

The Louisville Times voices the sentiment of the whole country when it states that profound regret is expressed on account of the serious illness of ex-President Harrison. Since his retirement from the Presidency he has borne himself in such commendable spirit as to enlist the good opinion of all, regardless of political differences.

Auditor Conter will in a few days notify the life insurance companies doing business in the State to submit reports for franchise taxation. The Auditor holds that these corporations are taxable on franchise valuations under the provisions of section 3078 of the Statutes, though the former Auditor did not make any effort at collection. If the Auditor is right this taxation will yield to the State $100,000.

The so called indignation meeting held in Louisville to protest against the action of Governor Beckham in his pardons of Alvey and Miles was merely a move to further prejudice a few self styled Democrats against the Democratic party, rather than a real, heart-felt desire to see Louisville freed from crime or the guilty incarcerated in prison. These same partisans made no protest against the wholesale pardoning of all classes of criminals under the Bradley reign! They did not meet to pass resolutions of denunciations against fugitive Taylor when he set at liberty men accused of crime and took them from the custody of officers. Nay, these political saints did not condemn the attempted pardon, by this same Taylor, of four or five men indicted for as foul a murder as was ever committed, and that before any arrests or trials! They did not condemn Taylor in his efforts to protect the murders of Mr. Gobel and now when a Democrat holds the gavel of power and when pardons have been granted two confessed gamblers this saintly city crew throw up its hands in holy horror and seeks to saddle it on the back of Democracy. The man or men who could undo the revolutionary methods of Taylor and his pardoning of men charged with murder are not the ones to condemn the pardon of Alvey and Miles. It is all done for political effect.

The Larue County Herald speaks of it thusly: "The inaugural ceremonies at Washington were elaborate almost beyond description. Thousands of dollars were drawn from the National Treasury to defray the expenses of the occasion. The military display was gorgeous, and it is said to have been a reproduction of monarchical military pomp and splendor when kings and queens are crowned. Another long stride has been taken toward an imperial government of ours and bloodshed, of corruption, dishonesty; another blow has been dealt to citizenship and another thrust has been made at the foundation of the Republic. Another step has been taken toward that imperial chasm at the bottom of which are slave fetters, but, thanks to heaven, there yet remain a few barriers along the route to the precipice."

The Washington correspondent of the Chicago Record, speaking of the changes in the bill to repeal the war revenue tax, says: "The banks and brokers and the moneyed interests generally are still treated very handsomely, and the people get a little more benefit than they would have enjoyed if the bill that passed the Senate had become a law." The grand old party is still looking after its friends. The vast majority of people who are not bankers or brokers seem to have been entirely overlooked. If the farmers have been "treated handsomely" the correspondent has forgotten to so state.

The trial of George and John Reeves for murdering a deputy sheriff and town marshal in Jasper, Ind., was set for last Monday. The outcome of the trial of these notorious criminals will be watched with much interest in this section of Kentucky. They are said to have a large amount of money in their possession and to have employed some of the best legal talent in Kentucky to defend them. The idea prevails, however, at the place of trial that they will be given the death penalty. They are the same men who burned the town of Tompkinsville a few years ago.

It is reported that the President has informed Senator Deboe that he must submit a new list of recommendations for the offices in Eastern Kentucky judicial district. It is believed that Deboe will now endorse Bradley for the Judgeship. It comes from Washington that the President has never seriously considered Mr. Pugh's application.

While several parties were in the office of Sam Kash, Manchester, last Thursday, making preparations to sign a bond, they were fired upon from the court-house, circuit court being in session at the time. About one hundred shots were fired, the party in the office taking a hand. Only two men were wounded.

Mr. Chairman, the Cumberland River flows 800 miles on an air line through the Eleventh district, and much farther by its meanderings.—Vincent Boring.

We are in receipt of Hon. Vincent Boring's speech made in the Lower House of our National Congress asking for an appropriation to improve the upper Cumberland. The speech is all right, a good one, but it did not bring a dam.

The Interior Journal is outspoken for ex-Governor McCreary to succeed Senator Deboe. McCreary is a good Democrat, an able statesman and would fill that exalted position with honor. He is good enough for us.

Think of the great gush of applause and the princely salaries attached to the rulers of our land and then remember the millions of hard workers whose only hope is a scanty living and the conclusion, that the classes and the masses are drifting apart, is irresistible.

The people of Indiana and Illinois are becoming acquainted with the same troubles that caused lynchings in the South and they resort to the rope as quickly as do the Southern people. Human nature is the same, North and South, and similar conditions demonstrate it.

OBITUARY.

On the 2nd day of February the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Jones, in this county, and took from their loving care a jewel, their daughter, Crittie May. Her death was due to double pneumonia, being sick only five days. Crittie May was born March 10th, 1887, professed faith in Christ between 9 and 10 years of age, and lived a happy Christian life. During her sickness she was patient and cheerful and when she died her hands were raised toward Heaven and a sweet smile was on her face. The night before death came she asked for family prayers. Her admission to those left behind and her many expressions of joy, in the hour of death, are precious treasures to her parents, and the whole family. She seemed to realize the beauty and glories of Heaven, and we doubt not that this precious young girl was permitted to see into the land of endless day, while in the agonies of death.

While we cannot understand the dealings of Providence, while the most precious ones are taken in the bloom of youth and our homes saddened and our hopes shattered, yet all things work for good to those who love the Lord. By this death gloom hovers over this Christian home—her presence will be missed, but she is far better off in a home of perfect and endless joy.

A FRIEND.

From an Obscure Pulpit.

Chicago, March 5.—There was a unique event at the Western-avenue Methodist church last night. J. G. Woolley, late Prohibition candidate for President of the United States, delivered what would have been his inaugural address if he had been elected instead of McKinley. In his prefatory remarks Mr. Woolley said:

"I was, in fact, within a mere particle of the presidency. If the good voters of the United States had held themselves up to their own high standards, this speech would become history and not fiction. I was beaten by a conjunction."

Novel Method.

Novel use is made in Wisconsin of a law which requires that at least five days elapse between the issuing of a license and the performing of the marriage ceremony. The purpose of the law was to discourage the coming into Wisconsin of couples from other States on marriage bent, and in that particular the law is working well. But it is regarded as a nuisance by the residents. Records of licenses issued are open to public inspection, and are daily scrutinized by representatives of firms dealing in household wares. Then for the intervening five days the marrying parties are benighted to leave their order for furniture and the like, on the installment plan or otherwise. Scanning the published notices of births, in order to broaden the market for baby foods and perambulators is an old bit of enterprise, but the Wisconsin push for trade is in advance of this.

The President has signed the bill appropriating $5,000,000 for the St. Louis Exposition. The Senate killed the amendment providing for an appropriation for the Charleston Exposition.

Luther R. Porter, former cashier of the Warren Deposit Bank, who is now under indictment for the alleged embezzlement of $40,000 from that institution, filed a deed of assignment at Bowling Green yesterday, naming J. Whit Potter as assignee.

Most in quantity, best in Quality.

SAM DAVIS.

BY KELLIE WHEELER WILCOX. [Sam Davis was a youth of Tennessee, who, like many another of her boys, went to war in 1861 for home and friends, except that he was tried as never soldier was, and through his trial lives, the wonderful story of his life will, regardless of sectional lines, stimulate men and women to sacrifice for truth and principle.]

Young Davis belonged to Shaw's Scouts, who, under orders from Gen. Cheatham, were operating in Tennessee around their very homes, when they were nearly all, including Capt. Shaw himself, captured by the Federals of General Dodge's command. Valuable papers were found on the person of Davis, clearly implicating Shaw, who in the prison also at the time, but escaped detection through having been known by the name of Coleman.

Davis was tried by court-martial. The evidence being clear, he was convicted and sentenced to be hanged. The same death for the violation of the same rule of war was met by Nathan Hale eighty years before, when acting under Gen. Washington's order, the difference giving Davis the greater distinction, being that he was offered life and liberty under conditions which he, regarding as dishonorable, declined.

As Davis went to this death immortality was offered him if he would tell who gave him the papers found on his person. His captain, Shaw, had given them to him, and was then in the same prison at Pulaski. He refused to purchase his own life at the price of another's. The Boy of Manassas, "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." Sam Davis said, "If I had a thousand lives I would give them all here and now, before I would betray my friends, or the confidence of my informers." His captors, his friends, and even the girl he loved and expected to marry could not induce him to save his life by betraying his friends, so he was hanged as a spy. The following poem is a tribute to his memory.

When the Lord calls up our heroes To stand before his face, O, many a name unknown to fame, Shall rise from their blest place And stand in the ranks of the dead, And at the last God's call and voice, Shall one man stand with feet on even And a robe about his neck. For men have sought from gallows Whose souls were white as snow, Not how they died, nor where, but why, In what God's records show. On that mighty ledger In writ Sam Davis' name— For honor's sake he would not make A compromise with shame. The great world lay before him, For he was to his youth, With love of life young hearts are rife, But better he loved truth, He fought for his convictions, And when he stood at bay He would not flinch or stir one inch From honor's narrow way. They offered life and freedom If he would speak the word; In silent pride he gazed and said: As one who had not heard, They argued, pleaded, threatened— It was but wasted breath. "Let come what comes, I keep my trust." He said, and laughed at death. He would not sell his soul.

To purchase priceless hope? Where kings drag down a name and crown He dignified a rope. Ah, gravel where was your triumph? Ah, death, where was your sting? He showed you how a man could bow To doom and stay a king. And God, who loves the loyal Because they are like him, I don't not, yet that soil shall set. Among His cherubim. O, Southern! bring your laurels; And add your wreath, O South! Let glory claim the hero's name, And tell the world's worth.

—Confederate Veteran At Marksville, Ind., a long-suffering wife went into a saloon where she found her husband sitting alone at a card table, with a lot of boozing companions and a glass of beer in front of him. She grasped her erring spouse to the back of the head and setting her self in a chair, pulled him in a not her lap, with his face to the door, and applied a claspboard in a way to do the most good. This is a decided improvement on the Mrs. Nation plan, and one worthy of general imitation where the circumstances warrant it.

A Fireman's Close Call.

"I stuck to my engine, although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. B. I. lamy, a locomotive fireman of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite and no sleep. As I was about to give up, got a bottle of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after taking it, I felt a new vigor did in my life." Well, I can tell you how people always get new vigor and strength from their use. In the West, Burlington is credited by J. K. Paul. Price 25c.

No evidence is given in Washington to the report that Gen. Wood had turned the Cubans that the President had ordered the Army H. It is said by a prominent official that the conditions must be accepted and that the Cubans expected to yield soon.

It is stated by a member of the British Ministry that England is about to depart from free trade principles, and that duty and counter-vailing duty on sugar will be introduced by the Chancellor of the Exchequer in the forthcoming parliamentary budget. The measure will meet with better opposition, but it is declared that such action is necessary. The tax will not seriously affect the American product.

THIS WILL SURPRISE YOU.—Take a piece of paper and write upon it the number representing your age in years multiply it by 2, and 3,600, divide by 2, then subtract the number representing your age, and before your eyes you will have something you will never see again.—Ex.

The Making of Good Coffee

Begins in the growing. Anywhere between the plantation and the coffee pot the flavor may be changed, the quality spoiled by carelessness, inexperience, or unscrupulous methods. From the time Arbuckles' Coffee leaves the hands of the grower until it reaches the user in a sealed packet, it is handled with the same watchful care, the same thought for cleanliness, that you would give any article of food that goes on your table. That's the reason it costs the grocer a cent a pound more than his cheap imitations. The extra cent you pay for
